Real Property Assessment Division
First Level Administrative Review Application

The Real Property Tax Administration (RPTA) strives to assess property at 100% of estimated market value. Estimated market value is defined as the most probable price that a buyer would pay a willing seller on the open market. As the property owner, you are given the opportunity to dispute the assessment of your real property through a formal appeal process. The process involves three levels of appeal, beginning with the First Level Administrative Review. Subsequent steps include appealing before the Board of Real Property Assessments and Appeals and DC Superior Court. You must, however, start at the First Level before proceeding to the next levels of appeal. Please complete the following information in order to file the First Level appeal of your property.

The DC Code 47-825.01(f-1) allows an owner to petition for an administrative review of the proposed assessment on or before April 1st. While an in-person meeting or telephone interview is not required by law, the Real Property Assessment Division desires to provide the owner(s) of property the opportunity to present evidence that will support a change in value, if warranted. Toward this goal we conduct both telephone and in-person interviews as well as written petitions. Telephone and in-person interviews are conducted by appointment only. If you fail to appear and have not notified us 24 hours in advance of the appointed time, your review will be converted to a written review and only the information furnished with your original petition will be considered in the review.
